

We all play various and integral roles on our shared journey to help people see brilliantly. Relying on the strength of our collective skills makes it possible for us to deftly navigate the rough times together and stay the course.

As a proud member of this unwavering ophthalmic community, Alcon has a dedicated team to help with reimbursement questions for telehealth services and resources to help provide clarity around the CARES Act.

We hope this helps alleviate any unnecessary burdens or distractions so you can focus on the needs of your patients, your staff, and your community.
