

Our journey as a community is one anchored in giving. Every day, we steer patients towards solutions that help them see brilliantly. In this time of great medical need, who better than the ophthalmic community to give back?

Through the Alcon Foundation, Alcon is directing monetary donations to supportive care for those affected by COVID-19. The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies, International Medical Corps, United Way, and Feeding America are on the medical frontlines and we are honored to support their efforts on behalf of our community.
